

In Conversation with Michelle Alexander

February 28

7:00-8:30PM

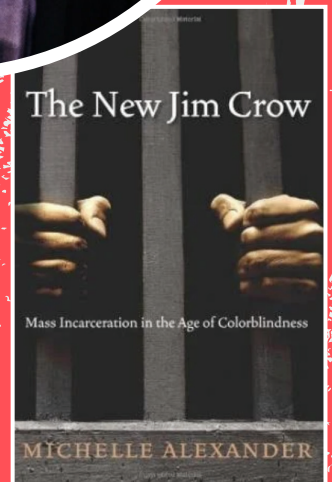

Graham Chapel

Washington University in St. Louis

Reception immediately following

The New York Times best-selling author of The New Jim Crow: Mass Incarceration in the Age of Colorblindness brings profoundly necessary and meaningful insights on the practice of mass incarceration that plagues the U.S. justice system, as well as eye-opening conversation on how we can end racial caste in America. Professor Fannie Bialek will discuss the current state of these issues with Professor Alexander and allow time for audience Q&A.

Please register
at rap.wustl.edu

John C. Danforth Center on RELIGION AND POLITICS

DANFORTH DISTINGUISHED LECTURES